

Compassion U Course and Account Policy

This Course and Account Policy was last updated on June 23, 2025.

Refund Policy

All purchases made through Compassion U are non-refundable.

Course Transfer Policy

Course enrollments are non-transferable. Access to a specific course is granted solely to the individual who made the purchase and may not be reassigned, deferred, or transferred to another person or future offering.

Subscription Responsibility

It is the responsibility of the Compassion U account holder to manage or cancel your subscription through your user account settings prior to the renewal date.

Account Sharing

Compassion U course access is licensed for individual use only. Sharing your login information or course materials with others is strictly prohibited.

Access Period

Access to Compassion U content is granted based on your specific course or subscription type. Time-limited access (e.g., one-year access) begins on the date of purchase, not on the date you first log in.
